

Deputy indicted on sexual assault charges

By WJCL Staff

Published: Thursday, April 25, 2013, 1:44 pm

(MGN Online)

CHATHAM COUNTY, GA – A former deputy with the Chatham County Sheriff’s Office was indicted by a grand jury on four charges including sexual assault against a person in custody.

Shelton Crowder engaged in sexual contact with an inmate in August 2012, according to the indictment. He is charged with sexual assault, public indecency, two counts of making false statements to deputies and obstruction of an officer.

The indictment was a result of an investigation conducted by the Chatham County Sheriff’s Office. Following a letter received from an inmate that initiated an Internal Affairs Investigation and a Criminal Investigation by the Sex Offender Registration and Tracking Unit.

☺