Texas Lawman Busted In Internet Sex Case

Colorado Authorities Arrest Constable Outside Restaurant

POSTED: 1:19 pm MDT July 29, 2005
UPDATED: 4:52 pm MDT July 29, 2005

CAÑON CITY, Colo. -- A Texas constable is being held on $100,000 bond after allegedly crossing state lines to have sex with a child.

Cañon City police arrested Larry Dale Floyd, 62, near a local restaurant Thursday.

Denton County
Larry Floyd is a Texas constable.

The Cañon City Police Department Internet Crimes Against Children Unit said Floyd was seeking a child to meet for sexual relations, when he unknowingly contacted an undercover officer in June.

Authorities said Floyd made arrangements via e-mail to meet the child, then drove to Colorado from Texas.

Floyd was booked into the Fremont County Jail on suspicion of criminal solicitation, solicitation of child prostitution, enticement of a child, sexual assault on a child, pandering, inducement of child prostitution, and trafficking in children.

The sexual assault on a child charge was based on a suspicion that Floyd committed that crime, a Fremont County spokesman said.

According to the Denton County Web site page on Floyd, he is married, the father of three children and has one grandchild.

Floyd has been an elected constable in Denton County, Texas Precinct 2 since 1993. He covers a subdivision called The Colony, just north of the Dallas area.

"I am shocked and disappointed that he would do something like that," Jim Dotson, another

Denton County constable, told The Dallas Morning News. "If they have a case against him, I'd say prosecute to the fullest, regardless of who it is."

According to Floyd's biography the Web site, he held various Texas law enforcement positions during the past three decades, and is a Vietnam war veteran.
