Another E-Perv Caught and This Time, He Is a Cop

Edward Berzins, a 37 year old man and a veteran police officer in Gloucester Township, New Jersey has been arrested. His crime? Being an Internet predator. Berzins has the distinguished honor of being the 77th person arrested by the Child Predator Unit.

Edward Berzins had needs. Those needs might have just landed him in prison. Berzins was arrested for soliciting what he thought was a 13 year old girl. Berzins was having a sexual conversation with the girl and operating a web cam when he stood up during the conversation and exposed his erect penis. The problem is, the viewer of the penis was not a 13 year old girl, but rather a special agent who was assigned to the Pennsylvania Attorney General's Child Predator Unit.

Berzins was arrested on Monday, June 11th and charged with unlawful contact, criminal attempted obscene sexual performances and criminal use of a computer. Berzins is being held on $50,000.00 bail and could face up to seven years in jail if convicted.

Berzins first came into contact with special agent on April 19th, and later was sending live feeds and videos of himself masturbating.

One of the agents has been quoted as saying:

If you're sitting naked in front of your computer, chatting to what you think is a 12-year-old girl, one of these days you're going to be talking to one of our agents
