Monroe County School District teacher arrested on statutory rape charges

Posted on November 8, 2012 by Chris Elkins in News

By Monroe Journal

ABERDEEN – Brian K. Flanner, 28, of Aberdeen was arrested Nov. 8 by Monroe County Sheriff Department charged with two counts of statutory rape.

Flanner had been employed by Monroe County School District as a teacher at Advanced Learning Center in Becker. The law and public safety course he taught at the ALC gave students an insight about the court system, law enforcement, fire and emergency services and the military.

According to Sheriff Cecil Cantrell, the alleged victim is a student in Monroe County.

Bond was set Thursday by Monroe County Circuit Court Judge Paul S. Funderburk at $30,000. Flanner is being held at Monroe County Detention Center.
