

Ex-WC police chief charged with child sexual abuse

thefacts.com

Welcome to the site! Login or Signup below.

Advanced Search

| 1 comment

ANGLETON — Former West Columbia police chief Michael Palmer spent one night in jail on multiple child sexual assault charges before bonding out Tuesday, but he could spend the rest of his life in prison if convicted on those counts.

A grand jury last week indicted Palmer on eight counts of aggravated sexual assault of a child, one count of child sexual contact and one count of indecency with a child-sexual contact.

Posted in News, West of brazos on Wednesday, August 28, 2013 2:00 am. Updated: 2:23 pm.