

2 former law enforcement officials accused of sex with minor due in court

10min

wlky.com

- A pretrial conference is scheduled Thursday morning for a former state trooper and a former police officer accused of engaging in sexual acts with a minor.

Stratford Young, a former Kentucky state trooper, is charged with one count of third-degree rape and two counts of third-degree sodomy.

Todd Matti, a former Brandenburg police officer, is facing two counts of sodomy.

The two are accused of having sex with the same 15-year-old girl at different times.