

Ex-Fairfax officer free on bond after child porn charges

2:52 p.m. EDT June 17, 2015

wusa9.com

635647195325312880-walker

(Photo: Fairfax County Police)

FAIRFAX, Va. (WUSA9) -- A former Fairfax County Police Department spokesperson's child pornography case has been continued until September 8, WUSA9's Peggy Fox reported Wednesday.

William "Bud" Walker, a well-known, 15-year member of the department was scheduled to appear in court Wednesday afternoon.

Walker was relieved of his duties back in April after being charged with two counts of possession of child pornography, according to officials.

PREVIOUS: Fairfax Co. officer resigns after child porn charges

Walker has been with Fairfax County police since December of 1999. During his time with the department, Walker served in a patrol capacity, as a school resource officers, and in the public information office.

He was working as a public information officer when he was relieved of his duties. Walker is on administrative leave with pay, according to police.