

Central Texas constable candidate charged with sexual assault of a child

By Joshua Fechter

Published 2:04 pm, Friday, February 26, 2016

mysanantonio.com

2016 Cop Pedophile Edward Lynn Malkey

Edward Lynn Malkey, a candidate for Lee County Constable, was arrested Feb. 18 on a charge of indecency with a child by sexual contact, a second degree felony punishable by a maximum 20 year prison sentence.

A Central Texas man running for constable faces accusations that he sexually assaulted a child.

Lee County Sheriff Rodney Meyer told mySA.com that Edward Lynn Malkey was arrested Feb. 18 on a charge of indecency with a child by sexual contact, a second degree felony punishable by a maximum 20 year prison sentence.

Malkey was previously arrested on Jan. 10 on charges of sexual assault of a child and abandoning or endangering a child via criminal negligence, Meyer said in an email on Friday.

According to a Dec. 18 indictment, Malkey allegedly assaulted a child younger than 17 years old around July 2012.

The document does not list the child's age or gender.

Malkey is also accused of touching the breast of a child younger than 17 years old in March 2014, according to a separate indictment handed down Feb. 12 by a Lee County grand jury.

In addition to the allegations of sexual offenses, Malkey also threatened suicide in front of a child younger than 15 years old by "placing a firearm in his mouth and requesting a third party to pull the trigger" on or about May 23, according to a Jan. 6 indictment.

Malkey also "did not voluntarily deliver the child to a designated emergency infant care provider," the indictment reads.

Malkey's bond was set at $100,000, according to Lee County Court records.

•

© 2016 Hearst Communications, Inc.