FORSYTH COUNTY, Ga. — A former Forsyth County Sheriff's Deputy was arrested and charged Oct. 4 with sexual battery and sexual assault against a minor.

Frank Augustus Huggins, 73, of Cumming, was charged after a female juvenile reported being inappropriately groped by Huggins who was her driving instructor at the time from Lanier Technical College. Detectives confirmed the victim's allegations using video and audio evidence from camera footage recovered from inside the vehicle.

Huggins was taken to the Forsyth County Jail.

From 2001 to 2010 Huggins was appointed by former Sheriff Ted Paxton as a Forsyth County Sheriff's Captain where he was the office's spokesperson.

Huggins thanked his friends Oct. 5 for their support and concern through his Facebook page.

He said he would make one comment about the story and then, on the advice of counsel, will not comment further.

"First of all it is absolutely not true and I intend to prove that when my day in court comes," Huggins wrote. "Second, I ask for your support and prayers in the days ahead. Thank you."
