DETROIT - Prosecutors said a long-time Wayne County Sheriff's Department deputy walked into the Dearborn Police Department and admitted to sexually molesting a girl younger than 13.

Thomas Pederson wasn't arraigned Monday, but the warrant for his arrest and the charges against him were signed by a downriver judge.

The allegations are serious. Pederson admitted to sexually molesting the girl, according to officials.

The case was turned over to Brownstown Township for investigation because that's where the alleged abuse has been going on.
