The alleged victim was injured but not taken to the hospital, Hepperly said.

The alleged assault took place Tuesday in Clear Lake, but the Sheriff's Office is not releasing further details on the location of the incident.

Eskildsen has been a Clear Lake police officer since 2002, according to the Sheriff's Office.

Eskildsen was in the Cerro Gordo County Jail pending an appearance before a magistrate.

The Sheriff's Office is the investigating agency in the case. Assisting agencies are the Iowa Division of Criminal Investigation and the Clear Lake Police Department, according to a press release from the Sheriff's Office.

Eskildsen will be on paid administrative leave until pending the outcome of further proceedings in the case, said Clear Lake Police Chief Pete Roth.
